

History of Abundant Grace

Abundant Grace Presbyterian Church (长老会嘉恩堂) originate from Yio Chu Kang Preaching House (杨厝港宣道所) and was established in 1947. Initially, the church catered to the needs of the Hokkien speaking families and soon it evolved into a mandarin speaking church. During the Japanese occupation period, the preachers include Fang Zhaixi (方兆熙) & Chen Biyu (陈碧玉) from Methodical Council. After the war, reverend An Lixun (安礼逊) actively led the others including reverend Lv Tianliang (吕天亮牧师) & son Lv Tingxun (吕庭训) with many others, in adult fellowship. Soon after, family service was conducted at the home of Mr Ang Oon Hue (洪恩惠) whose family earnestly encourage relatives & friends to join. The service was later relocated temporarily to Yucai School (育才学校) which eventually merge to become the Ju Eng School (聚英学校).

Due to the increase of church members, Mr Ang Oon Hue (洪恩惠) financed the construction of a new church building and the new church building was officiated in 27th December 1953.

As the number of member increased and the church becomes financially independent, the church was officially accepted as a member of The Presbyterian Church in Singapore in 8th April 1962 with the name - Abundant Grace Presbyterian Church (长老会嘉恩堂).

Due to major re-building work at the main hall of the church, worship services were temporarily relocated to the Tamil Anglican Church, Church of Epiphany outside the Seletar Camp from 14th August 1977 onwards. During the renovation, Sunday School continued at the home of Xie Anran (谢安然) & Xie Anguo (谢安国) while fellowship was conducted at various nearby places. Renovation work was completed in November 1981 and the church service, Sunday School & fellowship moved back to the church premise.

The church undergone another renovation in 2003 to upgrade the second floor hall for church service use. The work was completed in 2004.

The church progressed dramatically from then on with congregation numbers steadily increased through the following years. Various ministries, fellowship & community care services were started in response to the need of the surrounding community. Notably, these include tuitions for students, worship service & English class for China workers, mission trips to various Asian countries, carnivals for neighbourhood community, activity-based children programme (MEBIG), etc.

We give thanks to our God who has guided us throughout the many ups & downs of our church development.

We also remember the our fore-fathers, many of whom although are not with us anymore but their life stories & examples continues to serve as our role model in many years to come.
